

Ok look at these verses. Are these suggesting Jesus was actually raised on Sunday? This is from King James Version, The answer is yes (first day of week) and No (Sunday)

1. Matthew 28:1

In the end of the sabbath, as it began to dawn toward the first day of the week, came Mary Magdalene and the other Mary to see the sepulchre.

So our time line is dawn –

Here is the Strong's Greek for Dawn

epiphóskó: to let shine, i.e. to dawn

Original Word: ἐπιφώσκω Part of Speech: Verb Transliteration: epiphóskó Phonetic Spelling: (ep-ee-foce'-ko) Short Definition: I dawn, am near commencing Definition: I dawn, am near commencing.

Word Origin from epi and phós Definition to let shine, i.e. to dawn NASB Translation about to begin (1), dawn (1).

So it says In the end of the sabbath, as it began to dawn (am near commencing or about to begin) toward the first day of the week –let's remember first day of week started at sundown what we call Saturday –

So let's say sun went down at 6pm in Israel Saturday – Jesus could have rose at 6:01 and it be first day of week!! that shoots Sunday sunrise service down!!

Matthew 28:1 Complete Jewish Bible (CJB)

28 After Shabbat, as the next day was dawning, Miryam of Magdala and the other Miryam went to see the grave.

Actual Hebrew of new testament that Google translated to English- on the web site says this And after the Sabbath contact - visit one - on Saturday and she came Mary Magdalene and the other Mary to see the - the grave:

And there was a loud noise that - angel of the Lord descended from - heaven and came and rolled the -stone from - opening and sat on it:

And looks like lightning, and his clothing white as snow;
And whenever the guards panicked and are dead: And the angel answered and said to - to women - Tiran they knew that the - Jesus crucified was

2. Mark 16:2

And very early in the morning the first day of the week, they came unto the sepulchre at the rising of the sun. They came and Jesus was already gone just as sun was coming up!!!

3. Mark 16:9

Now when Jesus was risen early the first day of the week, he appeared first to Mary Magdalene, out of whom he had cast seven devils.

Now here we get a good clue it says that Jesus was raised early the first day -well it starts at sunset Saturday -so would Sunday be early the first day (no)- It says Jesus was risen then it says early the first day of the week he appeared-the point he was already risen -proof not sunrise

4. Luke 24:1

Now upon the first day of the week, very early in the morning, they came unto the sepulchre, bringing the spices which they had prepared, and certain others with them. Very early in morning even to us that is when it is dark!!! And Jesus gone Here in John we can connect the dots to make sure all the scriptures Work together!!

5. John 20:1

The first day of the week cometh Mary Magdalene early, when it was yet dark, unto the sepulchre, and seeth the stone taken away from the sepulchre.

6. John 20:19

Then the same day at evening, being the first day of the week, when the doors were shut where the disciples were assembled for fear of the Jews, came Jesus and stood in the midst, and saith unto them, Peace be unto you.

opsios: evening

Original Word: ὄψιος, α, ον Part of Speech: Adjective

Transliteration: opsios Phonetic Spelling: (op'-see-os) Short

Definition: late Definition: late, evening.

Word Origin from opse Definition evening

Ok so John 20:1 says first day of Week Mary early when it was dark (Sat night to Sun Night-sunset-so anything late on sun after sunset is Monday)

Then in John 20:19 after everyone went to tomb it says Then the same day at evening, being the first day of the week so later Sunday Jesus appears to them!!

7. Acts 20:7

And upon the first day of the week, when the disciples came together to break bread, Paul preached unto them, ready to depart on the morrow; and continued his speech until midnight.

Ok this is easy first day of week starts Sat at sunset let's say 6pm- so Sat 6pm to Sun 6pm only one midnight and that would be our Saturday night-this was a Saturday night service!! Sunday at midnight would be Monday or second day

8. 1 Corinthians 16:2

Upon the first day of the week let every one of you lay by him in store, as God hath prospered him, that there be no gatherings when I come.

When we read down in this chapter we realize that Paul is going to Jerusalem and wants everyone to already have a collection ready for him to take!! Why people want to say this is a church service I have no clue except to try and make a point for Sunday!! (Which is wrong)
